Climate Bonds view	The bond has not explicitly been labelled as green by the issuer, but we have accepted the BAM GreenStar designation as a sufficient label, as well as an assurance that the use of proceeds align with the Green Bond Principles. The GreenStar designation provides a high-level assurance, but without disclosing the details of the selection process of eligible projects, management of proceeds and reporting practices. We strongly encourage issuers to make this information publicly available to comply with best practice transparency standards.
