Issue details
Reporting	No reporting commitment stated.
Issuer information	Owens Corning is a Fortune 500 company that manufactures building materials and composites.
Firsts, records and certifications
Proceeds description	The proceeds will fund investments in solar and wind power generation facilities, projects to increase energy efficiency and investments in eco-efficient programs, such as increasing the level of recycled material in their products.
Climate Bonds view	Owens Corning is the first US industrial company to enter the green bond market, which is in itself commendable. The aspirations of greater energy efficiency and increased use of recycled material are likewise commendable. However, good transparency and disclosure – such as a clear commitment to post-issuance reporting on improvements achievements – would greatly benefit the market and its credibility, especially in the case of new sectors and issuers that fund projects and programs focused on improvements.
